

IN AND ABOUT WESTERLY

Rhode Island Law of Advantage to Carl Shaw—Grand Army Comrades at Funeral of John McCulloch—Lightning Strikes Cottage at Pleasant View—Golden Jubilee at St. Michael's Church July 16—New Assistant at Library.

A man who gave his name as Carl Shaw, and who was planning an advertising scheme, was arrested before Judge Williams in the Third district court Friday, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He pleaded guilty and was fined $2 and costs, a total of $5.80. He received the sentence smilingly, and smiled when he informed the chief of police he could not pay the penalty. He had evidently been arrested for drunkenness before in some place in Rhode Island, for he knew it was not the custom to send those sentenced for a plain drunk to the state institution at Cranston, owing to the expense that would fall upon the town, and that his release upon promise to pay was only a matter of a short time.

By the laws of the state, the town is compelled to bear the whole expense in cases of this nature. It would cost the town of Westerly about $11 to commit Shaw and the town would also be required to pay $3 a week for his board so long as he remained at the state institution. The costs in the case, however, $2.40, must be paid to the state. The money comes from a police fund that is raised for such purposes.

Alexander Lappan of Potter Hill did not fare as well as did Mr. Shaw, for his was a case of a different shade. He was arrested for drunkenness on Wednesday night and fined $10 Thursday morning, and in the early afternoon arrested for a like offense and carried to the police station in an express wagon. In court he was sentenced upon complaint of being a common drunkard. In answer to the complaint he declared that although he had been drunk on Wednesday and on Thursday he was not a common drunkard. When the court explained that a person who had been drunk to have been drunk three times within six weeks is a common drunkard, as defined in the statutes, Lappan pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to six months in the state workhouse.

In the case of Nat Hazard against Louis Dotolo, an action to recover for damages to wagon by collision in Dixon square, and which was tried at the previous session of court, Judge Williams gave decision for defendant. Attorney Ledwith gave notice of appeal to the superior court.

Horace Sisson proved his claim of $12.07 against E. Charles Travers, and received judgment for that amount.

The funeral of John McCulloch, who died from injuries received by being struck by a trolley car, was held Friday afternoon from the residence of his nephew, Thomas McKenzie. The services were conducted by Rev. William F. Williams, rector of the Christ Episcopal church, and burial was at River Bend. There was large attendance at the funeral, including a delegation of comrades from Budlong post, Grand Army of the Republic, and from Pawcatuck lodge of Masons.

The severe electrical storm selected Pleasant View for its freak Thursday night, as there is no report from any other section of the town of damage being done. The log cabin cottage at Pleasant View, owned by Mrs. Eugene F. Stillman and occupied by Frank Finney and family of Fishkill, N. Y., was struck by lightning about 9:30 and the rustic stone chimney shattered, one of the stones dropping down from the fireplace near which Mr. Finney was sitting, but he escaped injury. One of the rooms on the second floor was completely wrecked and Mrs. Finney had an almost miraculous escape from death or permanent injury. She had just reached the second floor when the crash came and she was so near the electrical fluid that her right arm was severely burned. Nearly every member of the family, age 2 years, Foxhall, age 13 months, with the nursemaid. All were knocked down by the shock and thoroughly frightened. All were rendered completely deaf at the time, but were gradually regaining their hearing during Friday.

After the lightning's visitation Dr. Edward R. Lewis was summoned, treated and dressed Mrs. Finney's burned arm and gave attention to the other affected members of the family. Just about the same time lightning struck a large oak tree on the B. Frank Clark farm, half a mile distant. The tree was split almost its full length.

The golden jubilee of St. Michael's church will be observed on Sunday, July 16. A feature will be the rededication of the newly remodeled church edifice by Rt. Rev. John J. Nolan, bishop of the diocese of Hartford. The rector, Rev. Dr. John Neale, as desired in the statutes, Lappan pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to six months in the state workhouse.

Local Laconics.

Edward D. Murray of New London was a visitor in Westerly Friday. James Palmer Brayton of Waterbury is visiting Westerly relatives.

Postmaster Nathaniel P. Noyes of Stonington was a visitor Friday in Westerly.

The members of the People's mission Sunday school picked up at Wheeler's grove Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Webster have sold a building lot at Pleasant View to Benjamin F. Grandall.

Howard Gray, who has been confined to his home by illness for nearly a year, was able to be out Friday.

The steam shovel to be used in excavation in connection with the proposed railroad improvements arrived Friday.

Jeremiah J. Purtil, who has conducted a horseshoeing establishment at Mechanic and West Broad streets, for many years, has entered the employ of James Fox at Mystic.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood and two daughters of Westerly are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Webster. Mr. Wood is foreman of the gray department of the Apponaug mill.

Mrs. Frederick Collins, who is summing at Napatree Point, while stepping from the shore into a motorboat, slipped and fell, dislocating her left shoulder. Dr. Scanlon readjusted the dislocation.

The cottage occupied by Edward E. Carpenter, located on the Dixie property and built for the late Nathan Pelous Dixie, is to be moved to the east side of West street on a lot owned by the railroad company.

In the Rhode Island-Connecticut baseball league Pawcatuck will play at Westerly Saturday and Stonington at Mystic. The standing of the teams is in this order: Stonington .600; Pawcatuck .500; Mystic .500; Westerly .400.

Miss Sally Coy has been engaged as an assistant librarian at the Westerly public library during the summer months and will commence her duties Monday. Miss Coy has had some experience in the local institution preparatory to taking up the study of library work.

When off Watch Hill Thursday, en route from Perth Amboy for Providence in tow of tug Elmer A. Keeler, there was a death on the bridge. The seven month old son of Capt. and Mrs. Olaf Swanson died from natural causes. On arrival at Providence the medical examiner issued permit for burial.

Some time ago the plastering fell in one of the rooms of the Elm street school building, but teacher and p-ple escaped injury. Soon thereafter a metal ceiling was placed in the room. There are eight rooms in the building, four on each floor, and when school reopens, the other seven rooms will have metal ceilings.

STONINGTON

Boy's Finger, Crushed by Cake of Ice, Has to Be Amputated—Stonington Team to Continue in League—Robert R. Stone's Case Continued.

Mrs. Joseph F. Leahy and Miss Josephine Leahy are visiting at Woodhaven, L. I.

Mrs. George M. Moss and Elizabeth and Denison Moss of Beloit, Wis., are spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. John M. Denison.

Mrs. William Cockins and son of Mesle, Kap., are guests at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Doughty, for the summer.

Finger Amputated.

John McCormick, young son of Philip McCormick, had a finger of his left hand crushed by a cake of ice falling on it. The finger had to be amputated. An old-fashioned clambake at Bennett's farm at Old Mystic is being planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett of Richmond Hill, R. I., and Mrs. Mary F. Hendrickson and daughter, Mrs. Averell of Brooklyn, N. Y., are guests at James M. Crocker's.

James Purdy and daughter, Mrs. Alice Benedict of Brooklyn, N. Y., have returned to their home.

To Continue in League.

The Stonington team is to continue in the Rhode Island-Connecticut league and will play ball games as scheduled with Mystic today (Saturday) at Mystic, and Saturday, July 15, at Stonington. This was the decision at the meeting of the Stonington association held this week at the office of the town clerk.

Stone's Case Continued.

The case of the state vs. Robert R. Stone was continued until Thursday, July 13, at 9 a. m. C. Biven of Pawcatuck was arraigned in the town court Thursday, charged with breach of the peace. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5 and costs of court. He was placed on probation.

The Quilabauz Ladies' association resumed their bi-weekly suppers at the chapel Thursday evening. An excellent New England supper was served and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd who attended.

Talk on Missions.

At the monthly meeting of the Woman's Board of the Second Congregational church, held Wednesday evening, an interesting talk was listened to with much pleasure on India and China mission work by Mrs. J. H. Odell of Scranton, Pa., a summer resident here.

Borough Notes.

Rev. J. H. Odell of Scranton, Pa., will preach at the Road church on Sunday at 11 a. m.

The causes of democratic voters of Stonington borough will be held to night (Saturday) in Borough hall.

The annual picnic of the Second Congregational Sunday school will be held Thursday, July 27. Just where they will go has not been decided.

MYSTIC

Funeral of Mrs. Emma B. Schofield—Game With Stonington Today—Announcement of Carney-King Engagement.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Bradley Schofield was held on Thursday afternoon from the home of her mother, Mrs. Emeline Bradley, in West Mystic avenue. Rev. Welcome E. Bates, pastor of the Union Baptist church, conducted the services. The body arrived in Mystic on the Monday express from Manville, R. I. Mrs. Schofield having died at that place at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Wadsworth, whom she had gone to visit. The body was taken to Norwich for burial in Greenwood cemetery.

Stonington vs. Mystic Today.

The baseball game today at Industrial park will prove a good game, as the Stonington and Mystic teams will cross bats. Ever since the Fourth of July the management has been undecided as to whether there would be any game here for today, as the attendance has been so small that the expenses have not been held up. Interest in the Connecticut-Rhode Island league has been lacking since the start, but no doubt a good crowd will be present at the game this afternoon, as much rivalry exists between these two teams.

Carney-King Engagement.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Sadie Carney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carney of Westerly, and James King of Providence. Miss Carney is a granddaughter of Mrs. Homer Carney of this place and has many relatives and friends in this village, where she occasionally visits.

Death of Everett Chapman.

Word was received here Friday of the death of Everett Chapman of Belknap Falls, Vt. Mr. Chapman was the son of Isaac and Virginia Chapman. The body will be brought to Mystic for burial in the Elm Grove cemetery.

Local Notes.

Mrs. Annie Sheridan of New York is the guest of her father, Lawrence McCabe.

At the regular meeting of Misture lodge, No. 42, K. of P. action was taken on the death of Brother Gustavus F. Green, who died at the State hospital in Providence.

A social time was enjoyed and all present were invited to Wheeler's for ice cream and cigars.

NOANK

Funeral of Gustav L. Green—Straw Ride—Lightning Strikes Tree.

The funeral of Gustavus L. Green, who died at the State hospital at Providence, was held Friday afternoon in the Methodist church on High street, in charge of members of charity and Relief lodge. F. and A. M., of which Mr. Green was a member.

Mr. Green was born in Sweden February 13, 1831, moved here when a young man. During the early part of his life he followed the water, being a well known yachtsman. For many years he held the position of head rigger at the Noank shipyard, being one of the best riggers in this part of the country. During his long residence here, Mr. Green made many friends. He is survived by two nieces, Miss Whitman and Mrs. Lee of New London. Burial was in Noank Valley cemetery.
